(U) Baldwin Park – Student Arrested in Connection with High School Threats

(U) Two schools in Southern California are dealing with threats made to their campuses, forcing one to close and the other to increase security for students. A student was arrested for threatening Sierra Vista High School in Baldwin Park. Authorities said the threats began last week when staff received an email regarding explosive devices on campus. Nothing was found at the school, but more threats from the same subject arrived soon after and increased police patrols began out of caution. At a second school, Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana, the campus was closed due to a “credible threat” from a former school employee. An investigation into that incident is ongoing.

(U) Los Angeles – Feds say Oklahoma Man Threatened to Bomb, Shoot LA Schools

(U) Federal authorities said an Oklahoma man who grew up in Los Angeles and allegedly harbored a grudge against certain schools there was arrested and accused of threatening to shoot elementary school students and making several bomb threats. The suspect called two LA elementary schools, two middle schools and one high school, claiming he had placed bombs throughout the campuses and would shoot students as they left for the day. Each school was locked down after each call as authorities searched the campuses for explosive or unusual items, but none were found. Investigators traced the phone number behind the calls to an address tied to the subject. The suspect is charged with one count of making a threat through interstate commerce to damage or destroy buildings by fire or explosives.

(U) Colorado – Fentanyl Seizures in First Five Months of 2022 Surpass all of 2021

(U) Golden – Law enforcement authorities across Colorado announced they have already seized more illicit fentanyl in the first five months of 2022 than they did in totality last year. During the announcement, law enforcement officials presented data from the Rocky Mountain High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area showing that more than two million dosage units of fentanyl were removed from Colorado communities so far this year. Authorities further advised that the data indicated an increase in drug seizures and dramatic rises in fatal overdoses which demonstrated the user market for illicit fentanyl in the state is expanding.
